

When Considering a Nursing Home,

CHOOSE GERMANTOWN HOME!

We have compared Medicare-certified nursing homes based on location as well as the quality of care they provide and their staffing. The overall star rating from Medicare.gov lets you compare nursing homes on topics you consider “most important” and gives you a “snapshot” of the quality of each nursing home.

Below is where Germantown Home stacks up compared to nursing homes within a 5 mile radius of 19119

* The quality of resident care star rating measures parts of nursing home care quality, like if residents have gotten their flu shots, are in pain, or are losing weight. By comparing scores, you can see how nursing homes may be different from each other. The quality of resident care star rating is calculated from 2 different types of quality of resident care measures: short- and long-stay resident quality measures.
